She fearlessly juxtaposes bold patterns and unexpected materials, creating visually captivating and emotionally resonant artworks that shatter the conventional norms of quilting.

Randle's artistic journey began in the heart of the American Midwest. Growing up on a farm, she was surrounded by a rich tapestry of colors and textures that sparked her imagination. From an early age, she developed a profound connection with fabrics, marveling at their ability to evoke emotions and tell stories.

Her formal training in art and design provided her with a solid foundation in composition, color theory, and textile techniques.

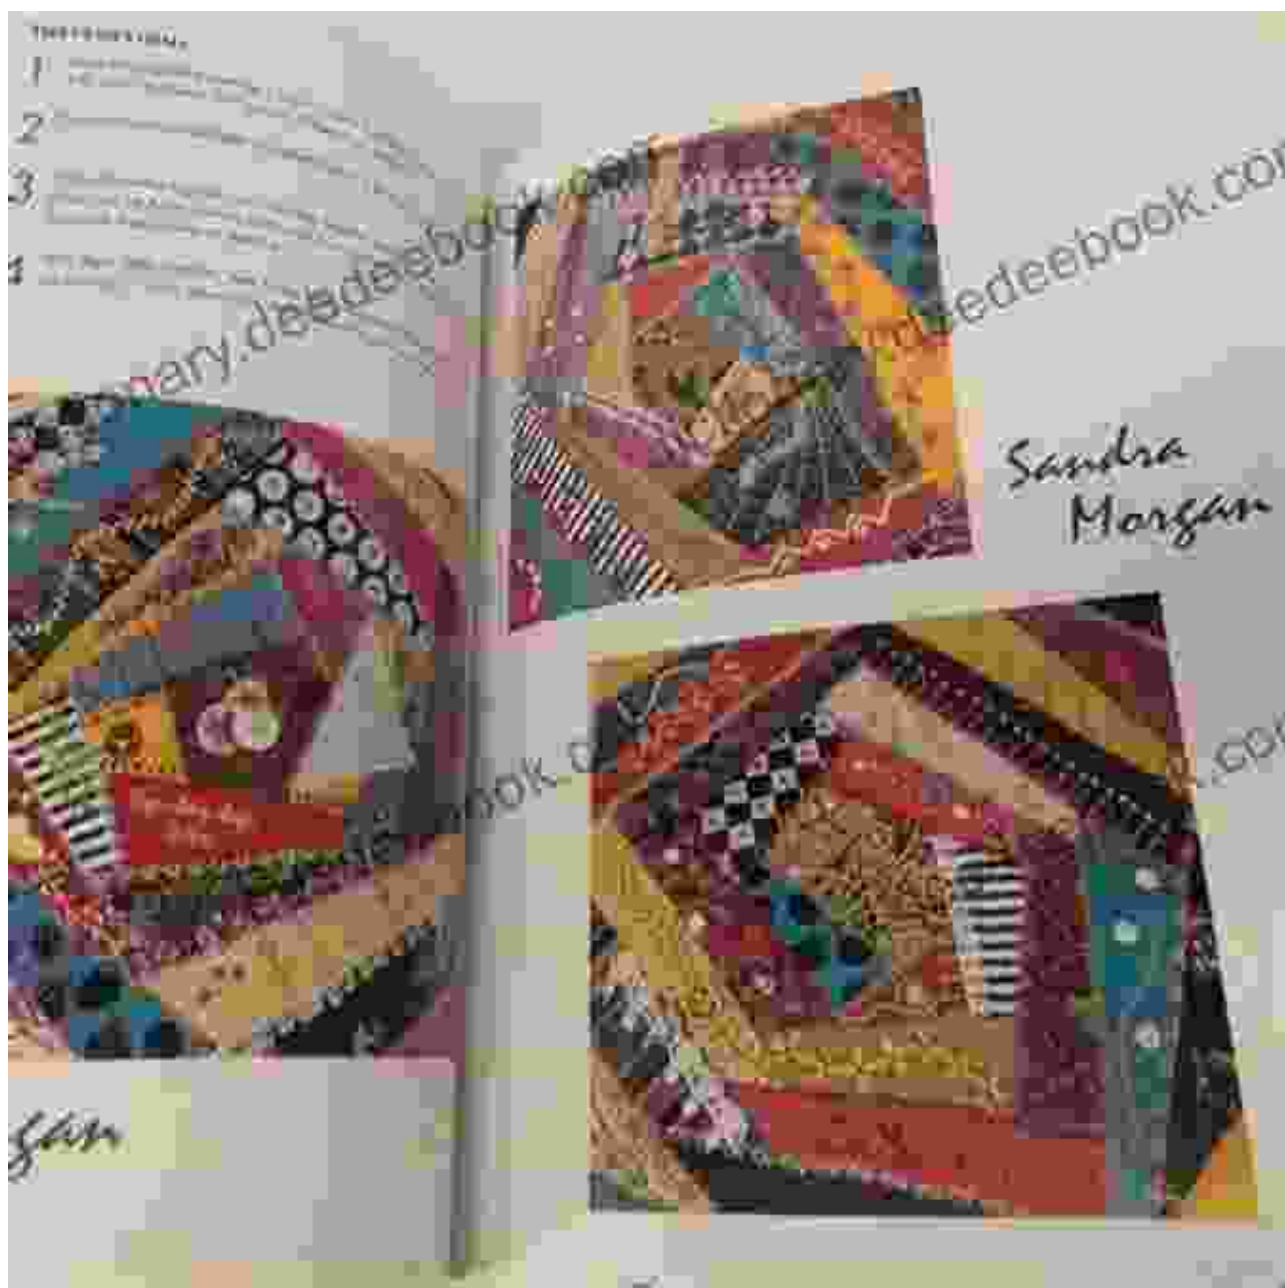

However, it was her relentless experimentation and willingness to break away from established conventions that truly ignited her creative spirit.

Randle's signature technique, fabric fusion, involves the intricate layering, manipulating, and bonding of diverse fabrics to create captivating three-dimensional effects. She masterfully combines traditional quilting stitches with unconventional adhesives and embellishments, resulting in artworks that are both visually stunning and tactilely engaging.

Through her innovative approach, Randle transforms ordinary fabrics into extraordinary works of art. Her quilts are adorned with a symphony of textures, from delicate silks and gauzy chiffons to sturdy canvases and metallic threads. She embraces the unexpected, incorporating found objects, vintage ephemera, and personal mementos into her creations.

Randle's artistic vision is fueled by a boundless curiosity and an insatiable thirst for inspiration. She draws from a wide array of sources, including nature, history, literature, and her own personal experiences.

The vibrant landscapes of her childhood home continue to influence her color palette and compositional style. She finds inspiration in the works of renowned artists, such as Frida Kahlo and Pablo Picasso, as well as in the rich traditions of Japanese textiles and Islamic architecture.

Randle is deeply committed to sharing her knowledge and passion for crazy quilting with others. She conducts workshops and lectures around the world, inspiring countless individuals to embrace the creative possibilities of fabric fusion.
