The Legionary from Londinium

The Legionary from Londinium is a mysterious figure who appears in several of the Roman Mysteries books. He is a young Roman legionary who is stationed at the fort of Londinium. Flavia first meets the Legionary when she is investigating a murder at the fort. The Legionary is a suspect in the murder, but Flavia soon realizes that he is innocent.

The Legionary becomes a friend and ally to Flavia and her friends. He helps them to solve many of the mysteries that they encounter. The Legionary is a brave and loyal soldier, and he is always willing to fight for what is right.

Other Mini Mysteries

In addition to the Legionary from Londinium, there are many other mini mysteries that appear in the Roman Mysteries series. These mysteries include:

* The Mystery of the Missing Legionaries: In this mystery, Flavia and her friends investigate the disappearance of a group of Roman legionaries. The legionaries were stationed at the fort of Isca Dumnoniorum, and they disappeared without a trace. * The Mystery of the Poisoned Chalice: In this mystery, Flavia and her friends investigate the poisoning of a Roman governor. The governor was poisoned at a banquet, and Flavia and her friends must find out who is responsible. * The Mystery of the Stolen Chariot: In this mystery, Flavia and her friends investigate the theft of a Roman chariot. The chariot was stolen from a wealthy Roman family, and Flavia and her friends must find it before it is sold on the black market.

These are just a few of the many mini mysteries that appear in the Roman Mysteries series. These mysteries are all exciting and engaging, and they will keep readers guessing until the very end.
